What kind of things would I do?

There are many ways to get involved, from occasionally sharing your experience, ideas or feedback to being a Community Ambassador or joining our Beneficiary and Family Advisory Council (BFAC). Your level of involvement is up to you based on how much time you can volunteer and what fits your schedule. You can share your healthcare stories, points of view and suggestions for improvement. You may want to participate on a project or the review or creation of resources and tools. You'll be part of a network of volunteers to improve the patient experience and quality of care.

Why should I volunteer?

Your healthcare experience as a patient or family member of a patient gives you knowledge and insight about what could improve the healthcare experience for others.

- Help others by sharing your ideas and experiences.
- Your opinion matters. You can influence the direction of activities, services, programs and policies.
- Learn more about healthcare programs in your community and serve as a resource to others.
- Make a difference. Create positive change in the lives of individuals and their families.
- Broaden your network of contacts and build your experience.

Am I eligible to volunteer with Telligen?

- Do you have Medicare or are you a family member or caregiver for a Medicare beneficiary?
